

Anssi Hanhela

Andreig

I am interested in experiments that combine video, digital art and painting techniques. Paintings, digital prints and video will be used together to create coherent works of art.

I want to experiment and have a sense of inner freedom and courage in order to make works of art using different forms of contemporary art. To achieve this, I will combine different materials and media and also use various techniques. My goal is to discard my traditional ways of working and move in a more experimental direction.

My art works process my interest in nature and the human philosophy of life. In my art I open my mind to fantasies, hopes, disappointments, anxieties and unfairness through morality, friendship, love and eroticism.

I visualize my mental images and emotions in art. The tools and techniques I use include video, installations, painting, drawing and printmaking. The road leads directly towards a woman. Longing, respect, hatred and anger are some of my themes. My work reflects the respect for women that is characteristic of old religions, a certain Earth Mother figure. I question the Christian patriarchal society.

<http://www.anssi.org/andrei>

Now I am working with installation. My new project handles about excrement.

Shit Installation, Oulu railway station, Finland

